ENHANCING YOUR ENVIRONMENT

Turf Conversion

Now is the time to make plans for any conversions from turf to xeriscape. The process takes some time and must be done during the heat of the summer. Timing is critical to the reduction of Bermuda that comes back through the granite.

Another reason to act now is the rebates that some cities offer for this program have limited funds on a first come first serve basis.

Refer to our website at www.AssetLandscaping.com in the newsletter section. You will find the newsletter for March 2006 with even more information!

This month in Landscaping

On our web site at www.AssetLandscaping.com, you will find a link to our landscape planner outlining areas that are common to focus on each month. Also check out the archived newsletters for additional timely information.

According to the Landscape Planner, it is time to install those plants that are sensitive to frost. We have passed the time when frost is expected and new plants will be given a chance to begin growing before the heat comes.

Fertilizations are happening this month as well. We want the ornamentals (shrubs) to be healthy as possible going into the summer season.

Reduce Your Incoming Calls

As a former Community/Property manager, I remember wanting to stay as far away from the phone as possible during the summer. Well, as much as that sounds like a good idea, it probably is not. That is why Asset Landscaping has a plan that will significantly reduce the number of calls you need to take.

As with many plans, it is only as good as the people involved. Some of this can be controlled by you, unfortunately some of it cannot.

We believe that the more information you push toward your residents and board members, the better you have covered yourself. We help you do just that. As with this newsletter, it is in pdf format so it can be forwarded or printed. We welcome this to be distributed because it gives people a heads up on what is happening. Use this powerful tool to keep the call volume down.

With our software driven service request and information tracking system, you have access to more information than anyone else can provide. Want to know when the last time an account manager visited the community? When was an irrigation tech out last and what did he do? Has the tree trimming been ordered? The date, time, and names are all in there. This is also very effective to show that you are doing your job. If you reported something, it shows that you are the one that reported it. These services are included as part of our normal landscape management contract.

Asset Landscaping is your solution to quality Landscape Management. Providing quality proposals now !
